ALFIE LOAKES

A highly focused web developer with experience in a variety of languages. Organised and methodical, with a keen eye for detail results in solid coding and great looking websites. Always looking for new ways to improve and new things to learn.

EXPERIENCE

WEB DEVELOPER
Astley Marketing

I joined Astley Marketing just before the start of my first year at university which gave me a great opportunity to work in an industry that I would like to persue a career in. It also allowed me to apply my knowledge learnt at university to the workplace, offering me a valuable insight into the way in which a web development agency is managed. During my time at the company I was able to apply my knowledge of SQL and object oriented programming. I quickly grasped web systems such as Opencart and WordPress to create E-commerce sites quickly and easily. We also used our own content management system to manage sites, offering me unique experience in independent systems.

FREELANCE DEVELOPER
studio16.com

Whilst studying at college I was able to learn basic web development in my free time. While building my knowledge, I began creating websites for small businesses in my local area. This was a big learning curve, helping me to develop my technical skills and my ability to effectively communicate with clients.

EDUCATION

BSC COMPUTER SCIENCE
De Montfort University

I am currently in my first year of a three year computer science course at De Montfort University, on track to achieve a first class degree. During this year I have learnt a lot about computer programming, learning languages such as Haskell and Scala. I have also completed modules on Computer Programming, Elements of Computing, Computational Modelling and Law, Ethics and Cybersecurity Management. Learning within a wide range of subjects has offered me a greater range of knowledge, allowing me to broaden my skillset. I look forward to the modules for next year. This includes completing a year long module of Multi-layered Web Applications, which will allow me to expand my growing knowledge of PHP and help me in my web development career outside of the university.
